★ Corp. Jerome V. Donovan, of 97 Bow street is with the carpenter shop at a P-51 Mustang Fighter station in England. Packing crates are only one of the many items that Corporal Donovan has built since his arrival in England in August, 1943. He has constructed numerous signs which dot the field, directing traffic and personnel, and has made a good portion of the office equipment being used. He recently finished building a bar for both the officers' and enlisted men's clubs. A graduate of Arlington High School, Cpl. Donovan was with the Donnelly Electric and Neon Co., in Boston before enlisting in the Army Air Forces in September, 1942. His sister, Mrs. John McCabe, lives at the Arlington address.

★ Odd size or not, equipment that's badly needed at the front must arrive quickly and be in good condition. Sergeant Frank Chamberlain sees that it does. The sergeant, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Chamberlain of 20 Pond lane, is group carpenter at an Air Service Command depot in France that speeds supplies by air to the troops at the front. He designs and builds carriers for the odd-shaped pieces of equipment so that they can be loaded quickly and safely into the C-47s that deliver them. Sgt. Chamberlain is a graduate of the Medford Vocational School. He has been overseas since December, 1943. A brother, E. J. Chamberlain, is attending the U. S. Naval Academy School of Ordnance and Gunnery.

★ Musician 2nd Class Richard Fereshetian, formerly of Arlington, was a member of the United States School of Music Chorus which, combined with a WAVE Chorus, sang carols Christmas eve on the grounds of the White House, Washington, D. THE NEED IS URGENT Offensives on two fronts—the Pacific and the European—have made urgent the needs of our armies. Their necessities are many; they must have ammunition, food, transportation, means of communication—all essential to their continued fighting. An even more urgent need is for nurses. As the battle lines are extended the number of the wounded increases. And these wounded must be given the best of care. The returning veterans have testified that they have had this care both from surgeons and nurses. All of us have heard stories of miraculous recoveries from wounds. Most of us know men who have made such miraculous recoveries. These recoveries fill our hearts with hope.

Now, however, we hear of a shortage of nurses. The nurses at the front are forced to work night and day, and to care for far more beds than is the usual load. This they are doing uncomplainingly, but they cannot do it indefinitely. Every one has a breaking point.

As more hospital units go overseas, more nurses should go with them. Yet, in December, eleven general hospital units were sent overseas without nurses. This fact was cited by U. S. Surgeon General Norman T. Kirk in commenting on suggestions that the Army draft nurses.

Registered nurses are urged to join the United States Army Nurse Corps, and senior cadet nurses to serve the final six months of their training in an Army hospital.

Nurses, it is reported, are not opposed to conscription—in fact they would welcome it. Why not, however, they ask, conscript other women. Untrained women can get from the Red Cross training in home nursing or as nurse's aides. Such training will relieve the pressure on nurses in this country and release them for army service.

Nurses must go to the far places of the earth. In Europe casualties are heavy and nurses move forward into Germany with the men. In the Pacific as the army advances from island to island hospitals and nurses advance also. As we take more outposts, more nurses are needed.

The Red Cross stands ready to tell every woman, registered nurse, cadet nurse or the woman who is untrained but willing to learn, how she can help.

Conscription may come—we are fighting foes who have conscripted all their forces, bent all their energies to war—but let's not wait for it.

Nurses are needed now.

FOR NEXT YEAR'S GARDENS

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals urges every one to feed the birds. Winter is a hard time for birds because shorter hours of daylight mean a shortened feeding period. As a matter of fact it is the shortening days rather than the increasing cold that send many birds south. Snow and ice covering the ground make it even more difficult to find food.

Even if we are not lovers of wild life, we may be induced by practical considerations to put out food. It is the birds who will next summer help to keep our victory gardens free from pests. They are necessary to maintain the balance of life. Were there no birds and no insect poisons administered by men, insects would overrun the world.

Just now it is highly desirable that grain, bread crumbs, corn meal, etc., be spread where birds can reach them, thus eliminating the possibility of suffering which might result through lack of their natural diet.

"The most satisfactory method of putting out food for them," stated the Society, "is to place it on a large board with a molding around the edge. In this way it is not scattered or lost."

Choral Society Concert.—Tuesday evening the Town Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity to listen to the music, ancient and modern, to be furnished by the Arlington Choral Society. A comic solo and chorus, "Cousin Jedidah," the solo by Miss Georgie Hill, could hardly have been improved. Mrs. George Teale sang the solo in the song and chorus, "Strike the Cymbal."

Turn Over.—Tuesday afternoon, as Mrs. S. D. Hicks was driving out of Pleasant street into the Avenue, one of the runners of the sleigh caught in the horse car tracks, overturning the sleigh and spilling its occupants. The horse was secured before he had a chance to run, and the only damage done was a slight injury to the sleigh and the fright occasioned by the accident.

Festival.—In accordance with a custom established years ago, there was a festival for the benefit of the children and young folks connected with the Unitarian Church on New Year's night in the vestries of the Church.

Three Cent Stamp Frame In Library Reading Room

The frame of stamps which Henry Angier Jenks, president of the Arlington Stamp Club, placed in the main reading room of the Robbins Library last Saturday, is made up of the three-cent values of the United States. While the group does not contain all of the stamps of the 3 cent denomination, it has all the adhesives used postally.

The fifth stamp from the left in the first row has been called the first United States Commemorative. A few have been given nicknames, like the third one from the left in the sixth row, which has been called the "Wash on the Line" stamp, and the first stamp of the group of two at the bottom of the frame, called the "Horseshoe Crab" and the "Porter House Steak" stamp.

The frame contains all the adhesives from 1851 to 1944 except a few varieties.

The next meeting of the Stamp Club will be held on January 15 at 8 o'clock at the residence of Miss Cora E. Morse, 31 Park circle.

—Mrs. John Chapin Harvey, Jr. (Hope Emily Wells) was among the brides whose pictures appeared in the society section of last Sunday's Herald.

Let's keep our sights on the main target

Our fighting men always attempt to "Do First Things First." In their book the "first thing" of all is victory over the Germans and the Japs. For three full years, their sights have been trained unwaveringly on their objective, Total Victory. They recognized fully the strength of the enemy and realized that only complete concentration could bring about the defeat of desperate and fanatical foes.

The phenomenal and successive victories of our armed forces are a great tribute to their ability to concentrate on their objectives. Unfortunately, these successes have given the civilian population in recent months the idea that we "were in", and, as a result, there has been a very noticeable diminution in the war effort here at home.

Recent set-backs suffered by our armed forces should serve to emphasize that the hardest part of the roads to Berlin and Tokio is still ahead. Our fighting men know this. Their sights are unflinchingly and determinedly trained on their objective, Total Victory.

Let all of us at home, until our enemies have been defeated on all fronts, keep our sights on the main target, Total Victory.

Farley Directs A. R. P. Services To Be Prepared

J. W. Farley, executive director of the Massachusetts Committee of Public Safety, has sent to the local committee a communication in which he says that, though he considers the probability of attack by rocket bombs slight, he believes that the A. R. P. organization as a whole should be prepared to mobilize.

The full text of the communication follows:

There has recently been considerable publicity about the possible use of rocket bombs against cities on the Atlantic Coast. An Army-Navy statement that such attacks were theoretically possible stimulated public interest.

Admitting this possibility, in our judgment the probability of such an attack is small and is daily becoming less. Moreover, should such an occurrence take place, it would probably involve only scattered incidents which could be handled by the regular police, fire and other municipal services.

Nevertheless, a situation might arise, assuming such an attack, which would require the use of Civilian Defense ambulances, rescue squads, auxiliary police, auxiliary firemen, and some of the other A. R. P. services. Besides, if one rocket fell in any locality, this would indicate the possibility of more, and the public might, unless the situation was promptly dealt with, become seriously disturbed.

For these reasons, the A. R. P. organization, as a whole, should be prepared to mobilize if conditions develop that make this seem advisable.

So that we may be prepared to meet the situation assumed, the procedure outlined below will be followed:

1. In the event of a verified rocket attack, warning will be given to all communities by telephone over the present communications system.

EYES EXAMINED... GLASSES FITTED

2. State Headquarters, all Regional Headquarters and all Warning Centers will be manned promptly by a skeleton organization.

3. Such report centers as are deemed affected or likely to be affected, will also be activated and manned upon orders from the respective Controllers.

4. The Public Alarm System should NOT be used to mobilize Civilian Defense personnel unless specific circumstances in any given community warrant such action in the opinion of the Local Chairman or Chief Air Raid Warden.

5. State Headquarters must be advised promptly, through regular channels, of any rocket bomb incidents, and also of the measures taken within the community to cope with the situation.

6. Local Chairmen and Chief Air Raid Wardens should NOW survey their organization with regard to the current availability of rescue squads, ambulances and first aid parties.

MRS. L. M. EVANS HEADS VISITING NURSES ASS'N

nelly; Directors—Mrs. William Blasdale, Mrs. Paul Chandler, Mrs. William T. Davis, Jr., Mrs. Howard Ensor, Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, Mrs. Marvin O. Campbell, Mrs. Marcus J. Gray, Mrs. Walter Boone, Mrs. J. E. Sullivan, Mrs. Frederick Hill, Miss Caroline Higgins, Mrs. Edwin Jarnard, Mrs. Herbert Buttrick, Mrs. George Donahue, Mrs. J. Milton Washburn.

Upon retiring after five years service as president, Mrs. Murphy expressed sincere appreciation to the Board of Directors, the nursing staff and the many organizations for their helpful cooperation in making the years of the association so successful. The Visiting Nurses made over 7,000 visits during the year 1944. Mrs. Murphy very graciously presented the new president, Mrs. Evans.

A coffee hour preceded the meeting at which Mrs. Harrison Evans poured.

Miss Margaret B. Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bailey of Arlington, was the speaker. She is the Red Cross Social Service Executive at the Waltham Regional Hospital. Her subject, "Red Cross in a Military Hospital", was excellently presented. The Waltham Regional is a U. S. Army Hospital with a 500-bed capacity for men in active service who are ill or injured.

The Red Cross, under army regulations, render around the clock service to the men, wherever they may be. The Social Service workers furnish guidance in personal problems. Recreation under medical approval is arranged every evening. Nurse's Aides who function in three shifts probably render the greatest assistance. Arts and skilled workers are provided to teach handicraft in the work shop. The Canteen Corps arrange a tea on every Sunday afternoon, and the Motor Corps provides transportation at all times.

Individual groups who wish to serve the hospital must do so through the Red Cross. It is the coordination of hundreds who furnish comfort, entertainment and happiness in a military hospital.

Miss Bailey very graciously answered many questions.

LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES
The members of Arlington Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, extend sincere sympathy to their charter member, Mrs. Mary Colbert in the death of her son, George, recently killed in action overseas. Her son, John, was the first Commander of Arlington Post 39.

The Junior members of Arlington Auxiliary were the guests of the Cambridge group last Friday evening, at a reception given in the Legion quarters in Cambridge. Mrs. Bertha Connor, president of Arlington Unit; Mrs. Sophie Wesloski, chairman of Arlington Juniors, and Mrs. Anna Buckley, district director, were also the guests of the Cambridge Unit. Miss Anne Connor is the new junior president of the Arlington group and plans to hold a similar meeting in Arlington very soon.

The Area A Child Welfare and Rehabilitation Conference was held at the Hotel Statler last week on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Many plans for giving aid to children, not only of veterans, but any child in need, were discussed. Also expectant mothers, wives of veterans or wives of men in the service may receive aid from the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary. This is not charity but a duty of this organization and one which has been in force ever since the last World War. The Rehabilitation Conference was most interesting and much valuable information was given by the many speakers. An "Information Please" was conducted with John Burke of Medford asking the questions and Al Doucet of Arlington and Frank Tanner answering the questions. Mrs. Bertha Connor, president of the Unit, attended the Child Welfare Conference as did also Mrs. Buckley, who attended all sessions of both conferences.

Speaker from England Tells Allied Relief Of Need for Clothing

Allied War Relief Committee members and friends listened with much interest to Mrs. Gardner, the guest speaker of the day, when, last Monday in the Orthodox Congregational Church, she presented a most comprehensive view of the uses made of the clothing and supplies sent by the Arlington group to Great Britain. Mrs. Bemis, chairman of the English Speaking Union in Boston, introduced Mrs. Gardner, who spoke of the increasing need of clothing because of the damage by the buzzbombs in England. Mrs. Gardner remarked that because of the refugees arriving in England from the other allied countries, the work of feeding and clothing destitute people has been constantly increasing. Immediately upon receipt of bundles of clothing and other supplies from America, these are distributed to the refugees who have been "blasted" out of their homes. Without this help from such groups as the Arlington Committee, it would be impossible to supply their many needs. All the different nationalities have been aided in this way.

There were eighty consecutive nights of bombing in the first winter of Blitz. During this time thousands of people were made homeless, and were forced to live in the subways. To illustrate the spirit of Britain during these trying times when a particularly heavy bombardment had been experienced by a section of London and workers digging for bodies under ruined homes discovered an old woman and called to her, asking what she was doing, she called out "What do you think I'm doing? taking a blinking' bus ride!" The children have been evacuated from London three times. The large houses are no longer lived in by the owners, but have been converted into hospitals or barracks.

Mrs. Harold B. Wood, chairman, read letters of appreciation from the many relief organizations to which contributions of money and clothing have been sent by the committee. A letter of thanks was read from the Lovell General Hospital in appreciation of the radio sent there. It stated that the radio is now being used to assist reconditioning patients, satisfying a need that had existed for some time.

Mrs. Wood urged that more blood donors go to the Boston Blood Bank to contribute a pint of blood, so badly needed at this time. A sentence from one of the letters received from a hospitalized soldier was quoted: "I don't know why more red-blooded eligible citizens don't come across. They would, if they could see what good it does in life-saving and helping to get all of the boys home who are found alive on the battlefields."

Many letters of thanks and cards expressing appreciation have been received in response to the Christmas boxes sent to the sons and daughters of members in the service during the holidays.

The Arlington Committee mended and packed 275 pounds of used clothing for the Dutch Relief, together with sixty blankets. $50 has been sent toward the purchase of new blankets, and an additional $26 collected toward this fund.

Gifts were received from Mesdames Marie Johnson, Esq., canon, Carlsson, Wadleigh, Watson, Deane and Florence Harris. The Gift Table reported $2.85 earned during the day, and gifts were received from Miss Isabelle Gratto, Mrs. Bowden and Mrs. Frank Robbins.

Mrs. Willard Wallace has contributed her 67th hand-made crib blanket. The resignation of Mrs. John Wadley, assistant treasurer, was read and accepted with regret. Mrs. Swift was appointed to fill this vacancy. Mrs. Harold L. Frost, treasurer, reported for the month of December, as follows:

Cash on hand, Dec. 1, 1944	$1,230.48
Total Receipts	207.77
Total Expenditures	$1,438.25
Balance	$1,039.00

The store committee, Mrs. Revell, chairman, reported that 235 pounds of used clothing had been shipped to Russia. 33 pairs of hospital slippers have been sent to Lovell General Hospital. Miss Lucinda Higgins reported $15.24 earned during the day through the sale of food, provided by the board members and friends. Members were asked to bring saved grease to the store, receive red points for same, and donate the money thus earned to the Allied War Relief Committee.

MANPOWER SHORTAGE CUTS STORM COST

have been used to clean up a storm the size of last Sunday's, the cost of that storm according to S. Alfred Benson, clerk of the Board of Public Works, has been about cut in half. The snow plows were sent out early Sunday afternoon and cleaning up started in the Center Monday morning with the regular Public Works men working double shifts with eight or nine High School boys to help out. By Tuesday night the Center was pretty well cleaned up but last night work was still going on at the Heights and in East Arlington.

There were no men available to sand the roads, but the surface was rough enough so that this was not essential. However, it may be necessary to sand the roads today.

Up to last night at five o'clock the cost of the storm was between forty-eight and forty-nine hundred dollars, whereas in past days it would have run close to $10,000. There is still some cleaning up to be done which will increase the cost.

Many Service Men Enjoy Dance of Girls' Service Club

One of the largest groups of service men ever to be the guests of the Arlington Girls' Service Club attended the first dance of the New Year on January 2 at the American Legion Hall. There were about 150 men present, representing all branches of service in the U. S. Armed Forces, and a scattered few from the armed forces of our allies. Many of these men were veterans wearing their campaign and award ribbons proudly over the heart. Among them were five of Arlington's own sons home on furlough and leave, and warmly welcomed by their hostesses: Cpl. Stanley Whitman, U. S. Army Air Corps, of 827 Massachusetts avenue; Herbert Ellard, BM 2/c, U. S. Navy, of 6 Park terrace; Thomas E. Driscoll, WT 2/c, U. S. Coast Guard, of 926 Massachusetts avenue; James Casali, GM 3/c, U. S. Coast Guard, of 104 Cutter Hill road; and Pfc. Robert H. Marsh, U. S. Army Military Intelligence, of 27 Windsor street. Another guest was John Kanascony, USNR, RM 3/c, of Lido Beach, N. Y., 1943 national roller skating champion.

Many novelty dances were introduced and in the prize social dance, Cpl. Robert Benoit of the U. S. Marine Corps, whose home is in Worcester, won a crisp new one dollar bill. Corporal Benoit is a veteran of both the American and Asiatic Pacific theaters of war, and on the latter campaign ribbons were three battle stars. He also wore the pre-war service ribbon. Outstanding among his awards were the Presidential Unit Citation, Letter of Commendation, and Good Conduct Medal.

Herbert Law's orchestra played for dancing, and refreshments were served during intermission by the Senior Hostesses: Mrs. Agnes Ellard, Mrs. J. Harry Law, Mrs. Mary Flores, and Mrs. Bamberg.

Tuesday evening, January 16, is the next scheduled dance to be sponsored by the club of young women and the group extends a cordial invitation to the service men of the Allied Forces to be their guests that evening, and also on subsequent first and third Tuesdays of each month at the American Legion Hall, 374 Massachusetts avenue.

and Mrs. John Byrne who have five sons in the service. They celebrated their 34th wedding anniversary by attending the dinner with their son, Philip, who was on the Carrier Princeton, when it was sunk.

Through clever questioning by the toastmaster, Philip revealed that he had been in the service two and a half years, is now rated as radar 2/c, and that there was much excitement when the Princeton was blown apart, but that all the members of the crew of 1500 kept their heads and only 100 men were lost. He admitted that he was glad to get out of there by dropping on a line into the water where he stayed for half an hour before he was picked up by a destroyer. Mr. Ryder was much impressed and called attention to the spirit shown in the Navy when the captain of the Princeton called Philip to tell him that another member of the crew was a neighbor from Winchester, revealed through the fact that Philip's father had installed the plumbing in the boy's home.

Dues Raised

The president of the Chamber, Robert E. Knepper, took over for a short session when the by-laws of the Chamber were amended so that the annual dues for a business person become five dollars instead of two dollars and the dues for a resident, three dollars.

Mr. Ryder contributed to the success of the meeting by calling for courage and working for victory in 1945, reading a number of poems and fictitious letters and prophesying facetiously the plans of the Chamber for 1945.

Early in the meeting he called upon Wathen Henderson to read his tribute to the life of Cyrus Firemen were called out several times over the week-end. Thursday afternoon, an alarm was sounded from 38 Fairview avenue the home of Alonzo Reed, where a kettle of water had boiled over on the kitchen range, causing steam. In the evening the firemen were called out by a fire in a contractor's shack at the corner of Lake street and the Concord pike.

Early Friday morning there was a fire in the cellar of the house at 1 Park avenue, occupied by Tony Cola and his family. The firemen confined the blaze to the cellar.
